introductory note out of the darkest depths of life where vice and crime and misery abound comes the byron of the twentieth century the poet of the vagabond and the proletariat maxim gorky not like the beggar humbly imploring for a crust in the name of the lord nor like the jeweller displaying his precious stones to dazzle and tempt the eye he comes to the world nay in accents of tyrtaeus this commoner of nizhni novgorod spurs on his troops of freedom loving heroes to conquer as it were the placid self satisfied literatures of to day and bring new life to pale bloodless frames like byron s impassioned utterances borne on the tones of a wild and quite artless melody is gorky s mad unbridled powerful voice as he sings of the madness of the brave of the barefooted dreamers who are proud of their idleness who possess nothing and fear nothing who are gay in their misery though miserable in their joy gorky s voice is not the calm cultivated well balanced voice of chekhov the russian de maupassant nor even the apostolic well meaning but comparatively faint voice of tolstoy the preacher it is the roaring of a lion the crash of thunder in its elementary power is the heart rending cry of a sincere but suffering soul that saw the brutality of life in all its horrors and now flings its experiences into the face of the world with unequalled sympathy and the courage of a giant for gorky above all has courage he dares to say that he finds the vagabond the outcast of society more sublime and significant than society itself
